Dear Friend of La Salle University:

Through the extraordinary generosity and support of its many loyal benefactors, in 1985-86 La Salle University enjoyed its most successful fund-raising year ever, as gifts and grants totaled $7,126,205, a 66% increase over the previous record year. Alumni donors and contributions to the Annual Fund increased dramatically, as did corporate and foundation support for the University. The contributions of the several Christian Brothers' Communities continued to sustain the Christian Brothers' Scholarship Program, while the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania significantly upgraded its support for private higher education through a variety of new grant programs. As a result, La Salle has begun to generate the resources it critically needs to expand many of its finest academic programs, to renovate and restore several of its major facilities, and to increase its institutional commitment to faculty development and student financial aid.

Foremost among the year's many positive developments has been the recent decision by La Salle's principal benefactor to fund the entire $11 million cost of constructing a new library on the Southwest corner of the intersection of 20th Street and Olney Avenue. For the time being, the Board of Directors of the Foundation which has authorized this commitment has asked that the gift remain anonymous. Nevertheless, the Foundation's outstanding pledge of support has enabled us to move ahead with the most significant capital project in the institution's history, the building of a true "University" library which will enhance our many diverse academic programs and meet our students' needs well into the next century. Groundbreaking for the new library took place on June 9, 1986, and the entire facility should be completed and open in mid-1988.

On September 26, 1985, La Salle publicly announced Phase II of its Campaign for the 80's: Decade of Rededication and Renewal. Originally designed as a comprehensive effort to raise $20 million by the University's 125th Anniversary in 1988, Phase II is currently being restructured to reflect the commitment we have received for fully funding the new library. The end result of this process will be a much more streamlined effort on the order of $15-$16 million which will focus on the achievement of the other major capital priorities in the University's master plan (e.g. restoration and utilization of the Belfield estate; adaptation of the David Leo Lawrence Library, College Hall and the Wister Library Annex; construction of new recreational and athletic facilities, including an all-weather track, etc.), and the attainment of increased extramural support for endowed faculty development, endowed faculty chair(s), new academic programs (e.g. M.S. in Management, M.A. in Human Services Psychology), expanded community outreach activities and increased endowment.

At this juncture, I am pleased to report that we have already received gifts, grants and pledges in excess of $7 million toward the remaining priorities in Phase II of the Campaign for the 80's. The most significant of these are $1 million commitments from the Christian Brothers' Communities and John McShain. Additional foundation and corporate pledges/grants received since the start of Phase II include those from The Annenberg Fund, Atlantic Financial, The Atlantic Richfield Foundation, Beneficial Mutual Savings Bank, Central Penn National Bank, Cigna Foundation, E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company, Fidelity Bank Trust, First Pennsylvania Bank, The Hunt Manufacturing Company Foundation, Industrial Valley Bank and Trust Company, The James S. Kemper Foundation, Samuel P. Mandell Foundation, Manufacturers Hanover Financial Services, Mellon Bank, Merck Company Foundation, The Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation, William Penn Foundation, The Penn Mutual Charitable Trust, Pennwalt Foundation, The Pew Memorial Trust, Philadelphia Electric Company, The Philadelphia Foundation, Philadelphia National Bank, Provident National Bank, Prudential Foundation, Rohm and Haas Company, Sears-Roebuck Foundation, W. W. Smith Charitable Trust and The Sun Company, Inc.

Through the pledges and grants that have been committed to Phase II of the Campaign for the 80's, the University has begun to make significant progress toward the achievement of the following priorities:

- Restoration of the Belfield Mansion, which now houses the President's Office, and construction of new tennis courts and additional parking on the Belfield Estate.
- Demolition of several of the older buildings on the Good Shepherd property to make space for outdoor athletic/recreational fields and parking.
- Acquisition of instructional equipment, including computer hardware and software, for the Science departments.
- Development of a Management and Training Center for Delaware Valley Non-Profit Organizations.
- Creation of an Endowed Chair in Accounting.
- Increased private support for Student Financial Aid.
- Expansion of the Urban Studies Center's Adult Learning Project.

Finally, a word of special recognition and congratulations for the outstanding success of this year's Annual Fund Program. Through the leadership of Brother Charles E. Gresh, F.S.C., Director, the Annual Fund Committee (Chairman: Lawrence E. McAlee, Esq.), the Volunteer Phonathoners (Chairman: John J. French), the Parents' Association (Chairman: Richard and May Duszak), and the Alumni (Chairmen: Theodore H. Mecke, Jr., John B. Beal, William J. Markmann, M.D.), Major Gifts (Chairmen: Henry G. DeVincent, M.D., Richard L. Duszak, C.P.A.) and University (Chairmen: James E. Biechler, Ph.D., Gloria F. Donnelly, Ph.D., R.N., F.A.A.N., and Charles A. J. Halpin, Jr., M.A., J.D.), Committees of Phase II of the Campaign for the 80's, this year's Annual Fund Program surpassed all of its major goals and shattered all previous past records for individual support for La Salle. In 1985-86, 5,308 Alumni contributed $945,313 to La Salle compared to the previous (1984-85) record of 3,605 alumni who donated $600,998 to the University, and the number of new alumni donors increased by over 400%. Similarly, 502 Parents contributed $32,756 during the past fiscal year, 179 Faculty/Staff members donated $46,451 to La Salle, principally through payroll withholding, and 208 corporations and corporate foundations awarded 661 matching gifts totaling $75,420. For its success in 1984-85, La Salle's Annual Fund Program was nominated as a Finalist for one of the Incentive Awards presented by the United States Steel Foundation, Inc. and the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education, and we are optimistic that the Program will receive a comparable nomination in recognition of its tremendous achievements in 1985-86.

1985-86 has, therefore, been an exceptionally good year for La Salle University, Phase II of its Campaign for the 80's, and its Annual Fund Program. Nevertheless, we have a long way to go to reach our goals. In the months ahead, we will be redoubling our efforts to increase alumni and corporate support for La Salle, and we are confident that your loyalty and support will ensure our success in this critical endeavor.

As nearly everyone understands, support for any good work resembles a pyramid in structure. The broad base of relatively modest but truly sacrificial contributions is essential to the crowning capstones of extraordinary munificence. Off-campus decision makers always ask, "How are your own people doing?" It is not only pleasant but crucial that we can continue to show an upward curve in the participation of alumni and alumnae, and of other long-time friends, as the great world takes more and more notice of our distinctive educational work.

All of us at La Salle University deeply appreciate the continuing commitment and assistance of all of those persons and organizations—Trustees, Alumni, Parents, Administrators, Faculty Members, Friends, Students, Foundations and Corporations—whose support has contributed so significantly to the vitality of the institution.

Sincerely yours,

Brother Patrick Ellis, F.S.C.

Brother Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D.
President

Brother President Patrick Ellis and Fred J. Foley, Jr., vice president for development, join with Jack Jones '71, of KYW-TV, Francis J. Dunleavy, and Leon J. Perelman '33, at the Union League for the kick-off of Phase II of the Campaign for the 80's. HIGHLIGHTS

All gifts and grants reported involve contributions received between July 1, 1985 and June 30, 1986. Multiyear pledges and contributions received after July 1, 1986 will be reported in subsequent Annual Reports as payments are received. In accordance with Internal Revenue Service regulations, gifts of securities have been reported at the mean (average) between their highest and lowest values on the date the gifts were made to La Salle University. Every effort has been made to assure the accuracy of the donor list. Occasionally, a donor's name is inadvertently misspelled or omitted. If, by chance, an error has been made, please accept our sincere apology and notify us of the mistake (215-951-1539). Several of the contributions listed below are duplicated in more than one category (e.g. an individual contribution in excess of $1,000 that is also included in the Alumni total). The unduplicated total of gifts and grants listed in this report for 1985-86 is $7,126,205.

THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS

Over the past 123 years the contributed services of the Christian Brothers, the sponsoring religious order at La Salle University, have been considerable. These religious who serve as faculty, administration, and staff members have contributed $224,626 to this year's Annual Fund. This is but one measure of their devotion and dedication to La Salle and the principles upon which the University was founded during the Civil War. It is a small wonder, then, that this amount is referred to as the University's living endowment.

PARENTS' PROGRAM

La Salle University Parents—502 of them—contributed $32,756.20 to the largest Parents' Fund ever. Because of their generosity, this fund increased 19 percent over 1984-85; moreover, thirty-nine parents had their gifts matched by their employers through the Matching Gift program for a total of $4,520.

As chaircouple of the Parents' Committee, we hope that the increased participation by parents in the Annual Fund exemplifies the potential for La Salle parents to become involved in a variety of activities.

Parents are significant members of the La Salle family. They are second only to the alumni as a group whose active support makes La Salle a vital institution of higher learning.

Parents' involvement with the University as volunteers, mentors, and advocates for the Admissions Office, as well as their role as donors, insures the promise of La Salle's future.

The record-setting results achieved by the Alumni Annual Fund and the Parents' Program reflect the extraordinary efforts of the entire La Salle University family. This past year, 236 alumni/ae, faculty, staff, friends, parents and students conducted the volunteer phase of this effort in ten major phonathons held in Center City. The Annual Fund Office deeply appreciates the generosity of these companies that hosted the phonathons:

Arthur Andersen and Company
Coopers and Lybrand

Fidelity Bank

First Pennsylvania Bank

Industrial Valley Bank and Trust Company

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Company

Price Waterhouse and Company

and is especially grateful to John J. French, '53, Chairman, and all of the phonathon volunteers whose loyalty and commitment ensured the Program's success.

A number of La Salle people did some remarkable

ACE FELLOW: Brother Joseph F. Burke, '68, chairman of the Psychology Department has been named a 1986-87 American Council on Education Fellow. This prestigious program is designed "to strengthen leadership in American higher education by identifying and preparing faculty and staff for responsible positions in college and university administration."

TRUMAN SCHOLAR: Elizabeth J. Vrato, a junior at the university, was the only student of a Pennsylvania college or university selected to receive a Harry S. Truman Foundation scholarship given to students who demonstrate outstanding potential for leadership in government and public service. She received the award from the late president's daughter, Margaret, in ceremonies at the Truman Library, in Independence, Mo. It pays all expenses for the last two years of undergraduate studies and the first two years of graduate or law school.

FATHER & SON: La Salle's Bill Wilkinson was selected Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference Coach-of-the-Year for the third time in a row in 1985 and his son, Bob, a junior at the university, was named to the league's All Star team.

WINNING PLAYWRIGHT: William D. (Bill) Wine, an assistant professor of communication arts at the university, had his full-length drama, Tenure, chosen over 195 other plays to be produced in June by the Dalton Little Theatre New Play Project, in Georgia. Last year, Wine was awarded a $6,000 Theatre Association of Pennsylvania Fellowship in support of writing Tenure. The grant was awarded to Wine on the strength of his play, Jolts, a full-length drama that was produced earlier this year at the University of Alabama-Birmingham.

things in 1985-86. Here are some of them.

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE: Chip Greenberg, '86, who majored in marketing and personnel/labor relations, was selected as the outstanding senior student-athlete by both the university and the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference. He was also chosen to receive the MAAC's annual $1,000 grant for post-graduate study awarded to the league's outstanding senior basketball player. With Jill Crandley receiving similar awards, it marked the first time that two players from the same school have been honored in the same year.

SCHOLAR-ATHLETE: Jill Crandley, '86, who made the Academic All America team as a computer science major, was selected as the outstanding senior student athlete by both La Salle and the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference. She was also chosen by the MAAC to receive the annual $1,000 grant for post-graduate study awarded to the league's outstanding senior basketball player.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR: Maria Theresia Becker, '86, has been awarded a Fulbright Foundation Fellowship to study for a year at the University of Graz, in Austria. She majored in German and Russian at La Salle and will study the works of Christine Lavant, the modern Austrian poetress. Since 1965, some 39 La Salle graduates have been named Fulbright scholars.

GOODWILL AMBASSADOR: All America swimmer Ronald Karnaugh, a junior biology major, represented the United States at the recent Goodwill Games, in Moscow, and won two bronze medals for third place finishes in the 200 meter individual medley and as a member of the 400 meter freestyle relay team.

AROUND CAMPUS

President Emeritus Brother Daniel Burke, who chaired the Library Committee during the planning stages, checks architect's sketches with Jean W. Haley, the university's director of library services.

Construction Begins on University's New Library

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held on June 9 for the new La Salle University Library that will be constructed on the southwest corner of 20th st. and Olney ave. and is expected to be ready for occupancy by September, 1988.

The new library will have the capacity for 500,000 volumes and provide seating and study space for 1,000 students. The 105,000 square foot structure will contain three full floors with a fourth "stack-supported" floor providing additional capacity.

La Salle's new library will also house an audio visual department, the instructional materials center, and a student lounge. Some of the student study/reading space will be situated under a picturesque 80 foot skylight that will enhance the aesthetic quality of the structure. A tastefully furnished "Special Collection Room" will provide elegant reading space.

Jean W. Haley, La Salle's director of library services, said that the new library will eventually accommodate the most sophisticated information retrieval.

"It will include the latest advances in information storage and retrieval," Ms. Haley said, "one of which will be a computerized catalogue. Access to bibliographic data bases at remote sites will also be available in addition to publications on optical disks."

La Salle's new library was designed by Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson, and Abbott, perhaps the nation's best-known library architects. The Boston-based firm has served as architects for libraries at Bucknell, Franklin and Marshall, Colgate, and Harvard Universities. Nason and Cullen, Inc., of Rosemont, will serve as construction managers.

La Salle's present library facilities are housed in two buildings on campus. The David Leo Lawrence Library was constructed in 1952 when the college had an undergraduate enrollment of 2,250 full and part-time students. The Wister Hall Annex was added in 1973-74. Even though this facility increased library space by 50 percent, a larger library is needed to accommodate the university's 6,500 undergraduate and graduate students.

Fulbright Honored at 123rd Commencement

Former U.S. Senator J. William Fulbright, the architect of the world's most famous international educational exchange program, was honored as a man who "has been productive of so much good in the world" at the university's 123rd Commencement on May 18 at Philadelphia's Civic Center-Convention Hall.

Fulbright, who represented the state of Arkansas in the U.S. Senate from 1944 to 1974, received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree. He was sponsored by Regan Henry, a member of La Salle's Board of Trustees and a prominent local attorney.

Brother President Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D., conferred bachelor's degrees on 973 men and women including 237 Evening Division students. Another 177 men and women received master's degrees in business administration; 42 were awarded master's degrees in religious education; 13 received master's degrees in bilingual/bicultural studies (Spanish); nine were awarded master's degrees in pastoral counseling, and three others received master's degrees in education.

In his citation presenting the former Senator for his honorary doctorate, Henry praised the Fulbright Program for generating exchanges among nations exclusively for peaceful purposes and for touching the lives of individuals everywhere in the world.

"The Fulbright program has sent Americans of compassion and common sense, of intellect and creative imaginations, and of empathy and understanding" to Europe, Africa, Asia and the Middle East, explained Henry, adding that the program "exists in accordance with the conception of its founder to improve the quality of life of all people."

La Salle's Brother President Ellis praised Senator Fulbright as a man who has individually made a significant impact on the whole world.

"As our need to relate positively with other nations becomes more evident by the day," La Salle's president said, "your vision is all the more relevant since it has given us a cadre of citizens with direct experience of those nations."

Fulbright chaired the Senate Foreign Relations Committee longer than any other senator (15 years). He introduced the original legislation in 1946 that authorized the use of nonconvertible foreign currencies acquired from the sale of surplus war equipment to finance grants for American citizens to study and teach abroad and for foreign students to study in the United States.

Expanded and modernized by passage of the Fulbright/Hays Act in 1961, the program has become an international educational venture unprecedented in size and scope. Since 1965,

La Salle, has been one of the leading institutions in the East providing Fulbright scholars with 39 of its graduating seniors receiving such awards. The Fulbright program was also the first American program to provide extensive opportunities for international exchange of elementary and high school teachers.

Fulbright, who once served as president of his alma mater, the University of Arkansas, attended Oxford University, in London, as a Rhodes Scholar, then received a law degree from George Washington University. While in the U.S. Senate, he also was chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. Since 1975, he has served as counsel with the law firm of Hogan and Hartson, in Washington, D.C.

La Salle's annual U.S. Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) commissioning ceremony for 13 new officers was held on May 17 on campus. The university's annual Baccalaureate Mass was held later that day at the Cathedral Basilica of SS Peter and Paul.

Bob Mullen Named Bradshaw's Successor As Athletic Director

Bob Mullen, director of athletics at the University of Southern Colorado since 1981, has been appointed the university's director of intercollegiate athletics and recreation. He succeeds Bill Bradshaw, '69, who resigned in May to become director of athletics at DePaul University.

The recommendation of Mullen's appointment was made by the university's Athletic Committee and approved by Brother President Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D.

Bob Mullen

"From a pool of well-qualified candidates, Bob Mullen emerged as an outstanding choice," said Brother Patrick. "He has an extraordinary depth of experience in similar positions, and has a grasp of our philosophy of the role of athletics and higher education."

"La Salle has a philosophical situation which agrees with me," said Mullen. "Basketball has been a big part of my life, and now being associated with the type of student-athlete that represents La Salle is a dream-come-true. "Coming back to the Delaware Valley is also important. My father lives in Cape May (NJ), and I have relatives throughout the area."

Mullen, 47, is a graduate of Northern Illinois University, with a bachelor of science degree in history and a master of science degree in guidance and counseling. His first head coaching positions were at Galena (IL) High School, where his basketball teams had a 189-59 overall record and won seven straight conference championships. He was also Head Coach of football (18-6 record), golf (three conference titles), cross country and baseball.

In 1974, he was appointed director of athletics and head coach of basketball and golf at Loras College in Dubuque, Iowa. Both the basketball and golf teams reached NAIA finals under his leadership. He also instituted a Division III football program at Loras, and aided in planning and development of both a civic arena and intramural center.

Since 1981 Mullen has been director of athletics at Southern Colorado in Pueblo. Among his accomplishments at USC were: European tours for both the men's and women's basketball teams; promotion of an NAIA first-round football playoff game which set a record for attendance; and initiation of a wrestling program which ranked second in the NAIA after only three years as a varsity sport. He also served as interim director of alumni affairs for one year due to his success in that area in relation to the Athletic Department.

As a college coach, Mullen received NAIA District Coach-of-the-Year laurels for both basketball and golf while at Loras College, and had basketball teams visit and compete in 10 foreign countries.

An active administrator on the national level, Mullen is currently a voting delegate to the United States Olympic Committee-United States Sports Council. He recently returned from Moscow's Goodwill Games where he was an administrator appointed by the National Association of College Directors of Athletics (NACDA). He was president of the NAIA Athletic Directors Association; and is a Division II college representative to the Executive Committee of NACDA.

Mullen and his wife Marcia have four children: daughter Sherri is married with two daughters and lives in Dubuque, IA; son Scott will be a junior at Western State College in Gunnison, CO; daughter Kelly will begin her freshman year in college in September; and son Rob will be a sophomore in high school.

McCloskey Retires as Vice President; Named Public Affairs Head

John L. McCloskey, '48, retired as vice president for public affairs at the university on June 30 and assumed a newly-created position of director of public affairs.

McCloskey, a member of the La Salle staff for 40 years, had been a vice president at the university for 27 years. In his new position, he will be responsible for all of the institution's local, state, and federal government relations as well as community liaison duties, and will serve as a representative of the president at designated activities.

A native Philadelphian and a graduate of Northeast Catholic High School, McCloskey received a bachelor's degree in accounting from La Salle in 1948 and a master's degree in marketing from Temple University in 1957.

McCloskey was a B-17 pilot and pilot instructor in the U.S. Army Air Corps during World War II. He joined the La Salle staff in 1946 as manager of the Campus Store, a position he held until 1954. Between 1950 and 1952, McCloskey also served as assistant professor of military science in the ROTC program. He was named assistant to La Salle's president in 1955 and also served on the university's faculty as an associate professor of marketing.

A fellow of the Case Institute Economics in Action Program (1964),

John L. McCloskey

McCloskey is chairman of the Philadelphia Mayor's Scholarship Committee. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia, and a member of the advisory board of CORA. He is also a member of the board of St. Gabriel's System and faculty advisor for the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE). He was recipient of a La Salle University Centennial Award in 1963 and the La Salle Alumni Association's John J. Finley Memorial Award in 1972.

McCloskey and his wife, the former Elizabeth Patton, reside in the Somerton section of Philadelphia and have four children: John R., M.D., an orthopedic surgeon at Shore Memorial Hospital, Somers Point, N.J.; James, a small business consultant; (Mrs.) Catherine Kane, a substitute teacher with the Philadelphia Public School System, and Daniel, a real estate salesperson. The four are graduates of La Salle University.

Brother Patrick Sheekey: "A Most Effective, Influential & Ideal Teacher"

Brother Edward Patrick Sheekey, F.S.C., '29, former chairman of the university's English Department where he taught the fine craft of writing to thousands of students for almost 40 years, died on April 3 at the Villa of Divine Providence in Lansdale. He was 82.

A native of nearby Germantown, Brother Patrick was a member of the Brothers of the Christian Schools for 58 years. He joined La Salle's faculty in 1946 and quickly established a reputation as one of the finest writing teachers in higher education. He was one of the first recipients of a coveted Lindback Award for distinguished teaching.

In addition to sharpening the creative skills of thousands of La Salle students, Brother Patrick published several writing textbooks and numerous articles of fiction and non-fiction. He founded Four Quarters, one of the nation's most respected literary magazines, and served as its editor for the first ten years.

In 1974, Brother Patrick was awarded the Benemerenti Papal Medal in recognition of his "long and distinguished" 59-year teaching career. In 1981, the university's Writing Center in Olney Hall was named after him. He retired in 1975.

Brother Patrick earned a bachelor's degree in English education and a master's degree in theology from La Salle. He also did graduate work at Johns Hopkins and Columbia Universities, the Universities of Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh, and The Catholic University of America.

Before coming to La Salle, he taught at elementary schools in Philadelphia and Jersey City, N.J., as well as Calvert Hall High School, in Baltimore; Central Catholic High School, in Pittsburgh; St. John's College High School, in Washington, and West Catholic and La Salle High Schools, in Philadelphia. He also served as principal at La Salle Institute, in Cumberland, Md.

Brother Patrick wrote a number of high school textbooks and literature anthologies including Joy in Reading, Appreciation Through Reading, New American Profile, and English Voices.

La Salle University's provost, Brother Emery Mollenhauer, F.S.C., Ph.D., eulogized Brother Patrick at his Mass of Resurrection in the La Salle University Student Chapel, on campus, April 8.

"We remember him for his delight in language and good writing," Brother Emery said in part. "His own search for the right word demonstrated an ability to characterize a colleague with an exactness that was at times humorous, occasionally acerbic, and often just uncanny."

"For most of us," La Salle's provost added, "he was above all, a teacher. More than that, however, he was a leader in that brave band of American academics who can teach a person to write. Never counting the hours, he saw each student through the labor of revision, withholding the too-facile grade until the work was worthy of its author. However, this concern for craft and discipline was only the basis for a far richer, deeply religious tie to his students. Working from the basis of a healthy academic rigor and a certain smiling formality, he caused many to think clearly about the largest issues of life, and through self-expression to reach self-discovery."

Brother Emery recalled an observation made by Charles Kelly, who succeeded Brother Patrick as chairman of the English Department: "Brother Patrick Sheekey is the most effective, influential, and ideal teacher I have ever met," said Kelly. "Frequently I have witnessed the absolutely dull student's enthusiasm translated into effective and commercially successful performance as a result of Brother Patrick's inspiration. Through the years Brother Patrick has modified the thinking and attitudes of many people, and has always been a force for good, in the true Catholic sense, wherever he exercised his ministry."

Brother Sheekey was buried on April 9 at the Christian Brothers' Cemetery in Ammendale, Md. He is survived by a sister, Helen.

THE WRITING TEACHER

I am forgetting the words,
he confided one evening.
We saw more often then how his door was swung shut, how the room began slowly to slide into unaccustomed hesitations,
a clutter of slurring
and broken phrase,
into an empty ruin finally that each day filled with the sunlight of what we could remember and the dark glimmering
of what he could not.
But now at last
he's found the word
he was looking for,
the clear sum
of untrammelled eloquence,
the shining wisdom beyond
sun and moon and stars.

Music Theatre Honors "Pioneers" During 25th Anniversary

La Salle Music Theatre commemorated its 25th anniversary as the nation's only college-sponsored professional summer music theatre with special ceremonies honoring four of its pioneers immediately prior to its opening night performance of "Oklahoma!" on July 8 in the Dan Rodden Theatre on campus.

La Salle University Brother President Patrick Ellis, F.S.C., Ph.D., conferred President's Medals on Dennis Cunningham, '59, and Bob Bolsover, '53, who starred in many of Music Theatre's early productions; Sid MacLeod, the theatre's original technical director, and Jean Williams, its first choreographer.

"Oklahoma," directed by Brother Gene Graham, F.S.C., who has been producer of Music Theatre since 1978, continued until August 3.

A favorite in many of the early Music Theatre productions, Cunningham has been arts and entertainment editor for WCBS-TV, in New York, since 1978.

In addition to starring in such La Salle hits as "Carousel," "The Fantasticks," "Camelot," and "Finian's Rainbow," Cunningham directed "The Most Happy Fella" and "Lady in the Dark" in 1966, and "The Music Man" in 1967. He was also a member of La Salle's English Department faculty for 13 years before joining Philadelphia's WCAU-

TV as arts and entertainment editor in 1975.

Bolsover has starred in the leading role, directed, and/or vocally directed 32 Music Theatre productions since the theatrical group was formed in 1962.

When Bolsover re-created his splendid portrayal of Emile in "South Pacific" in 1978 (after having initially drawn rave reviews in that role at Music Theatre back in 1964), he also pulled off an almost-unprecedented theatrical feat—serving as the show's director and vocal director at the same time. He is a member of the Language Department at Neshaminy High School.

MacLeod is the only person who was associated with every one of the 35 shows produced in Music Theatre's first 16 years through 1977. He also designed several of its early hit productions and directed "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," in 1975, "Sing, America, Sing," in 1976, and "The Boys from Syracuse," in 1977.

The producer of Music Theatre from 1975 to 1977, MacLeod is an assistant professor of communication arts on the La Salle University faculty. His daughter, Mary, played the feature role in last year's Music Theatre production of "Sweet Charity."

Williams was responsible for the highly imaginative dancing that characterized the initial Music Theatre productions from 1962 to 1967. She returned as the Music Theatre choreographer in 1978 and has been putting La Salle's dancers through their paces ever since.

In addition to conducting the Jean Williams School of Dance in Germantown, she is also founder and artistic director of the Germantown Dance Theatre. Many of her proteges—including the great Judith Jamison—have appeared on Broadway.

More than 500,000 people have attended the performances of 49 different Music Theatre attractions since it was founded by Rodden, a long-time professor of English at La Salle, who died in 1978.

A number of former Music Theatre stars have gone on to successful careers in the entertainment industry.

They include Pat Cronin, '63, who has appeared in such TV shows as "All in the Family," "Alice," and "Too Close for Comfort"; Melanie Mayron, the film star who appeared with Jack Lemmon in "Missing"; Marcus Brown, '75, dance captain for the Broadway hit "Bubbling Brown Sugar," and Miss Jamison, who had a special dance created by Rodden just to showcase her beautiful skills in the 1964 Music Theatre production of "South Pacific."

William S. Pierce, M.D. (second from right), chief of the division of artificial organs at Milton Hershey Medical Center who developed the "Penn State heart," delivered the seventh annual Holroyd Lecture at the university on May 2. His topic: "Hi-Tech Care of Heart Disease: Opportunities and Limitations." Prior to the lecture, the annual Holroyd Award was presented to Dr. Ralph Tekel (second from left), who recently retired after many years of service as a member of the Chemistry Department, and in the memory of the late Brother Claude Demitras. Brother James J. Muldoon, dean of arts and sciences, holds the plaque honoring Brother Claude, while Brother President Patrick Ellis stands at left.
